HoopsPass Resale Marketplace Rules

Document HP-POL-03 · Version 1.4 · Effective 15 September 2025 · Owner: Marketplace

The HoopsPass Resale marketplace lets fans resell tickets to other fans (fan-to-fan). Resale orders are recorded with order type RESALE and ticket type RSL.

1. Who can list

1.1 Any HoopsPass customer with a COMPLETED order can list tickets from that order, including single games from a season package.

1.2 Complimentary tickets cannot be resold. Listing a comp ticket closes the listing and may suspend the account.

2. Price limits

2.1 The listing price must be between 45% and 400% of the face value of the ticket. Listings outside that range are rejected.

2.2 Sellers set their own price inside the range. HoopsPass shows the face value next to every listing.

3. Fees

3.1 The buyer pays a 10% fee on the resale price.

3.2 The seller pays a 10% commission on the resale price, deducted from the payout.

3.3 The face value goes to nobody: the original sale to the first buyer was already counted. A resale is a new sale of the same seat and counts as a sold ticket for volume reporting, but not for sell-through.

4. Payouts and transfers

4.1 Sellers are paid 5 business days after the game, once the ticket has been scanned or the game has taken place.

4.2 Listings close 2 hours before tip-off. The buyer receives a new barcode; the seller's barcode is voided at the moment of sale.

5. Refunds

5.1 Resale purchases are not refundable, except when the game is cancelled (HP-POL-01, section 3). In that case the buyer is refunded in full, including the buyer fee, and the seller's payout is reversed.

6. Why resale is not sell-through

6.1 Sell-through measures how much of the HoopsPass primary allocation was sold. Resale seats are outside that allocation, so they never count toward sell-through (see HP-POL-07).
